THE TAX BILL SHELVED

IN ORDER TO PROCEED WITH THE APPROPRIATIONS.

The Naval Appropriations Bill Takes Up By the Senate, and Anticipated by D. O. Merriam—Mr. Van Wyck's Committee Withholds Its Report—New York, for the Cap and Bell.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—In the senate, as soon as the routine orders of business were disposed of, Mr. Hale moved to postpone all present and prior orders, including the revenue bill, and to take up the naval appropriation bill. A long discussion followed, in which the motion was construed on both sides of the chamber as having the effect to dispose of the subject of revenue and taxation for this session, and to facilitate the probable adjournment in the course of a few days. In the further progress of debate the position of the friends of the revenue bill was commented on as a virtual abandonment of it. A vote was finally taken, when the motion to proceed with the naval appropriations bill prevailed—yeas 31, nays 25. Messrs. Hale, Hoar, Ingalls, Lodge, the Dill and Plumer were the republicans voting with the democrats in favor of the motion. The negative vote was entirely republican, except that Mahone and Davis, of Illinois, also voted no.

Mr. San Wyck offered the following: Whereas, The tariff commission, from their headquarters at Long Branch, have on two occasions informally appealed to the public for information, and their response has been made thereto, and after inviting into its presence the manufacturers, importers and traders, it is now wrestling with the serious question whether the gentlemen so invited can relate their views in matters of trade and revenue, theories without taking an oath, duly administered, to tell the truth, evidently with the laudable desire to protect itself from imposition: Resolved, That the attorney-general, as soon as in his judgment he can, promptly withdraw his personal attention from the star route prosecutions, and can fully satisfy the president and his cabinet that members of congress are not officers of the government, and as to the legality of political maneuvers, be directed to proceed to Long Branch to aid said commission in determining the above important and intricate question, and he shall advise what to him may seem proper to protect said commission from imposition by men who in matters of trade and revenue, either by stringent oaths or other pains and penalties.

Numerous objections to the consideration of the resolution were made simultaneously, and it was voted without action.

THE NAVAL BILL.

The senate took up the naval appropriation bill, as in committee of the whole. (Mr. Harrison in the chair) and Mr. Hall in charge of the bill addressed the committee. The bill, as reported by the committee, was in the nature of a compromise, and was intended to meet the objections of the republicans to the bill as reported by the committee. The bill was then read by title, and the committee reported that it was in the nature of a compromise, and was intended to meet the objections of the republicans to the bill as reported by the committee.

CONSIDERING CONFERENCE REPORTS.

In the house, Mr. Hiscock, of New York, presented the conference report on the general deficiency appropriation bill, stating that the conference committee had been unable to agree upon the matter in controversy, and that the bill was therefore referred to the conference committee.

After discussion the motion was lost and a new conference committee was appointed. The conference committee on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill reported that it was in the nature of a compromise, and was intended to meet the objections of the republicans to the bill as reported by the committee.

TEN MILLION BILLS.

Two Hundred and Fifty Acres of Congressional Land—Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Times-Star—Washington, July 26.—There are several people now laboring under the impression that congress has not done much this session. To those I beg to submit some facts which it is hoped may disabuse their minds of this false belief. There have been introduced in the house, in round numbers, since the session began 7,000 bills, and in the senate 2,000. This makes 9,000. Then there have been some 500 resolutions offered in the house and senate, bringing the grand total of bills and resolutions for both bodies up to 10,000. The law requires that there be printed 850 copies of each bill, and the appropriation offered in either branch of congress for the use of the members.

This indicates that there have been printed 9,000,000 copies of these bills and joint resolutions of this session. Then many of these become exhausted before they come up for consideration, and when they are to be acted upon are ordered reprinted. Our total aside from this is 9,500,000. Putting the number reprinted at five and one-half per cent. of the whole we have the grand total of 10,000,000 bills and joint resolutions, the production of this first session of the forty-seventh congress, up to date, aided by the congressional printing press.

These bills average, probably, two pages each, and are eleven inches long and eight inches wide, and counting each to average two sheets (many of them are ten and some are fifty), they average considerably over seven feet in surface each. A very simple calculation shows that these ten million bills spread outside by side would cover about two hundred and fifty acres of ground. Two hundred and fifty acres of literature! Who shall say that the present congress has been idle? But this is not all.

The bills are, as I said above, eleven inches long each. Lay them down in a straight line, end to end, and they would make a line 990 miles long, or half the distance from New York to San Francisco. Then consider that these, on an average, consist of two sheets each, and tearing them apart, lay each sheet separate, end to end, and you have enough to lay a line of congressional literature eight inches wide, from New York City to San Francisco. Who shall say that the present congress has accomplished nothing?

BLAINE'S INSTRUCTIONS TO TRESCOTT.

The latter writes a letter giving his understanding of Blaine's Policy—Washington, July 26.—Mr. Trescott has written a letter to Mr. Blaine at his request, giving his (Trescott's) understanding of Blaine's policy, judged from his instructions. Trescott says: "You always expressed yourself desirous that the Credit Industriel should be made useful to Peru, but were entirely unwilling that the United States should make any arrangement which might make the United States a party to the Peruvian government. You did not favor a protectorate over any part of South America, and you were free to negotiate with the Credit Industriel, and you instructed Harburt, and afterwards myself to report the result of such negotiations to the department. As to your design of establishing such relations between the republics of America as would prevent the possibility of a future war. But for a strange misconception, which reached and misled the Chilean cabinet through leading and influential parties of the United States, I believed that purpose could have been accomplished under your instructions. In regard to the Cochec and Landrean claims, you rejected the first absolutely. You instructed General Harburt to advise the president that the Cochec should come, that Landrean be heard before the Peruvian tribunal, and that, in case of a peace providing for a cession of Peruvian territory as a condition, his claim be brought before the United States. I believed that your instructions General Harburt, although approving the justice of Landrean's claim, never brought it to the consideration of the Peruvian government. During my mission to Peru, I never mentioned either the Cochec or Landrean claims to the Peruvian government, and I never mentioned either to the Chilean or Peruvian governments by ministers of the United States.

THE NEBRASKA FRAUD.

New Banks—Pensions Granted the Widows of Dead Soldiers—Washington, July 26.—The comptroller of the currency has authorized the Peoples' national bank at Newburgh, N. Y., to commence business with a capital of $250,000. He has also declared a final dividend of 13 per cent. to the creditors of the national bank of Vicksburg, Vicksburg, Miss.

General Warner Thinks the Democrats Will Carry the State Fall.

Pittsburgh, July 26.—General Warner, of Silver Hill fame, en route to Washington from the Ohio democratic state convention, was interviewed by your correspondent this evening on the political outlook in the Buckeye state, from the democratic standpoint. Relative to the alleged split between the Mosbachers and the other democrats, General Warner said it did not amount to anything. There was some objection to John G. Thompson, as chairman of the state executive committee, but this came from all sections alike. Speaking of the prospects of the party this fall, General Warner said: "The prospects are very good for the democracy carrying the state. The democracy will doubtless have a large part of the German vote on account of the action of the republicans on the temperance question. Then, he thought, that in the rural districts the extravagance and wastefulness of the appropriations will reap gains from the republican party. It will be a short canvass, but pretty lively."

Talking of national politics, General Warner said: "The presidency is too far ahead to make any predictions or tell anything about it. Unless the democrats carry Ohio this year and next, I don't think there is much chance of a democratic candidate from Ohio. But if they should carry the state, especially next year, it might become pivotal in the choice of a candidate in 1884."

"And necessarily the nomination of a strong Ohio republican."

"I don't know who it would be," was the laughing reply. "Sherman is clearly on the shelf. He has lost his prestige since he has been out of the treasury, and will never recover. He has lost his power in the senate that he had before he went into the treasury, and he has lost his influence even in financial matters. He is not what he was five or ten years ago. I don't think that he will be seriously considered."

"What about the democratic candidates?"

"There are but three whose names appear in such a category—Thurman, Pendleton and Payne. Thurman would no doubt be the choice of the party in Ohio if his health and his age would permit him to be a candidate. Of the others, Pendleton leads in prominence just now. I don't know what strength his strong and decided convictions on the civil service would give him. I don't know whether his ideas on that point would be endorsed by the party or not, but I know that it is a matter of conviction with him, and that he would not surrender for the nomination. I think, however, Hancock will be the man."

TO THE VICTOR

ENGLAND CLAIMS THE SPOILS SHOULD BELONG.

A Declaration That If England Enforces Order Alone, Then She Will Claim the Right to Control Instead of Turkey—The Sultan Put on Notice of His Lost Sovereignty.

LONDON, July 26.—The Times, in a leading article, says: Neither as sovereign, suzerain, nor under any other title will there be room for the influence of the sultan in Egypt after the responsibility of sovereignty has been cynically thrown aside in the hour of trial. The sultan may have amused himself by forming new alliances, and complimenting his new allies with decorations, but it remains to be seen what help these sympathies can or will give the porte. England, by acting, will acquire, and will assert her right of controlling in future the country she has saved. Those who object to that prospect have, at the eleventh hour, the opportunity of sharing the labor and obtaining a voice in the determination of events, but if England is left to act alone, the engagement she took when the situation was wholly different will be abrogated. We must plainly show to the sultan and to the powers that we intend to work thoroughly for the sultan's benefit. When done Mr. Gladstone and his colleagues must yield to the compulsion of events. Our commanding naval forces and a well organized army will insure a strong government under English protection if the ministry do not hesitate in entering upon the path which lies straight before them.

The house of commons again adjourned without reaching a division on the motion for a credit for the force in Egypt. General forces have been sent to a large portion of the expeditionary force to embark. A company of engineers and part of the commissariat and transport corps will leave tomorrow, the household cavalry on Saturday, and the troops from the Mediterranean next week.

The Pall Mall Gazette says there is no excuse for charging one penny of the expense of the Egyptian expedition upon the finances of India, except temporarily. If the government intend to resign for a large portion of the bill will break up. All its members cannot be expected to swallow their words and belie the whole spirit of their previous utterances about the only legitimate application of the Indian taxes.

THE SHELLED CITY.

An Attack Upon a Market of Last—Spilling the Guns at Aboukir.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26.—An Egyptian vessel, the Charkel, left this morning to take on board the harbor at Aboukir, and to land a party to spike the guns on the works. She has not yet returned. The garrison numbers 2,000 men. Retail trade has revived somewhat in Alexandria. The center of the great square is filled with the market and booths. The slowness of our military preparations daily strengthens the position of Arabi Pasha. Leading Egyptians here declare that if the troops only arrived by the latter end of August, the French would be able to take the city. Efforts are being made to circulate a declaration that Arabi Pasha is a rebel, and that the Egyptian government is the only legitimate authority in the country.

THE ALLIED POWERS.

Italy Invited by France and England to Join in Subduing the Fierce Egypt.

LONDON, July 26.—The Daily News says it understands that England and France on Monday jointly invited Italy to participate in the protection of the Suez canal, and that it is probable that within the next twenty-four hours Italy will be invited to co-operate with Great Britain in restoring order in Egypt. A correspondent of the News at Alexandria says the French fleet will start for Port Said on the 27th inst. A transport will follow with 600,000 litres of water. Algeria will furnish a battalion of zouaves. The discussions apparent in the discussion in the cabinet yesterday morning may result in serious resistance thereto, as at the cabinet council yesterday many of the ministers were adverse to any intervening even at Suez.

FROM RAMLEH TO CAIRO.

A Holy War to be Proclaimed—Attempt to Surprize the British.

LONDON, July 26.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Vienna says a telegram from Egypt announces that an Arab El Jhad or holy war has appeared at Tanta. A dispatch to the Central News from Alexandria states that Arabi Pasha has withdrawn the bulk of his outlying pickets to Nafr El Dwar. A force from an English man-of-war was sent to Nafr El Dwar, and the pickets of the British fleet, on his arrival at Port Said, prevented the general landing from all the men-of-war. He also sent for the new governor, who guaranteed the safety of the Europeans. The Daily Telegraph in its second edition, contains the following: "Alexandria, July 26, 8:50 a. m.—At 9 o'clock last evening a decided attempt was made to surprise the British at Ramleh. A force of 600 men approached close to the British lines, when the thirty-eighth regiment opened fire. The enemy retreated precipitately. During the remainder of the night the Egyptians continued moving about, just beyond range. The attempt was preceded by reports that Arabi Pasha was attempting to treat for conditions for his surrender, and that the white flag was flying over his entrenchments. The reports were probably circulated to lull the vigilance of the British."

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CONSTITUTION.

A dispatch to the Times from Ramleh states that the British at Ramleh are in a position to attack the Egyptian forces at any time.

that the British have mined the railway embankment at Ramleh as a precaution against a night attack.

BY THE BOSPHORUS.

Arabi Denounces the Sending of Turkish Troops—His Popularity Among the Ulema.

LONDON, July 26.—A dispatch to the St. James Gazette from Constantinople says a telegram has been received from Arabi Pasha deprecating the dispatch of Turkish troops to Egypt, and declaring his fidelity to the Caliph. A dispatch to Reuters' telegram company from Constantinople says Arabi Pasha is very popular among the Ulema and the lower classes. The Turks believe that if he is defeated he will destroy Cairo, join the insurgents in Southern and proclaim the independence of upper Egypt. Some of the sultan's advisers counsel him to send a force merely to occupy Alexandria, while others propose the dispatch of a deputation of ulema to induce Arabi Pasha to lay down arms. It is reported that the sultan has ordered all the powers will demand a collective settlement of the Egyptian question. The Daily News says the statement that Turkey has consented to send troops to Egypt is misleading. The sultan has recognized the appropriateness of the suggestion to send troops, and now proposes to discuss the condition under which they shall be sent, a process which, carried out in accordance with Turkish notions of diplomacy might occupy six months.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CONSTITUTION.

The Times correspondent at Constantinople says that at a meeting of the conference on Monday, the Turkish delegates accepted, and the British and Russian delegates refused, a proclamation declaring Arabi Pasha a rebel.

DUELISTS INDICTED.

Killed with a Peg Leg—Two Men Killed by Indians—A Cavalier Landed.

ORDEZ, July 26.—A wholesale persecution of the Gentiles has been inaugurated, and arrangements have been made for testing the constitutionality of the Edmunds act. In the supreme court of the United States. If the decision should be adverse, the Mormons have determined not to submit at any cost. Polygamists, from President John Tyler down, with the apostles, bishops and elders, in the most extreme part of their domain, have separated from their surplus wives, and living openly with one only. All polygamists have orders to resign from all municipal offices and monogamists as strong in the faith as those deposed have been selected and commissioned in their places. Every effort will be made to keep the government on all sections of the Edmunds act.

LORESBURY, New Mexico, July 26.—A courier from Clifton reports that a large party of Indians attacked the wagon train there, killing two men. The trainsters, seven in number, stood off the Indians for two hours, mortally wounding one, whom they dragged into the camp in the face of heavy firing, and after the fight was over scalped him and roasted him alive.

CHRISTIANSBURG, Va., July 25.—The grand jury to-day indicted Captain John S. Wise and John S. Crockett as principals in the duel fought here yesterday. Indictments were also returned against G. W. Ward and J. E. Stewart Crockett, cousin of J. S. Crockett, as seconds. Dr. Moore as surgeon. The other surgeon being from Richmond, and not known, escaped indictment.

CHARLOTTE, S. C., July 26.—Martin Becket, who was committed to jail at Hampton courthouse on Saturday for outraging a white girl twelve years old, was taken from jail last night and lynched. On a placard on his body was written: "Our women must be protected."

CHICAGO, July 26.—Last night John Fendall, a prisoner in Bridewell, murdered his cell mate, Wm. J. Clark, by beating him to death with Clark's wooden leg.

SULLIVAN AND WILSON.

Another Glove Fight Arranged For, With Doubts of Its Being a Genuine Affair.

Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.

New York, July 26.—Backers and friends of Sullivan and Wilson, the prize fight, had a meeting at Harry Hill's theater to-night, and arranged a second glove fight between those worthies. The affair has every appearance of what, in sporting slang, is called a "pull," and it is questionable whether this fight, which is to take place here in Madison Square Garden, on August 14, will excite half the interest taken in the first meeting. There had been a great deal of bravado from the principals and their backers in the newspapers, and sporting men had begun to cherish the hope that there would be a real fight between the men, but all prospects of such an outcome vanished when the principals, Sullivan and Wilson, would fight only in some other quarter than the south, and so the fight was dropped. The glove fight was arranged, in the hope that it would yield a handsome money haul, as the last did. A summary of the terms of the match are as follows:

Soft gloves are to be used, and the fight is to be under the marquis of Queensbury rules. Sullivan bets $1,000 even that he will knock out Wilson in ten rounds, and if he does he will take the gate money. Wilson bets that he will stand up for the fifth round, and will take the gate money if he knocks Sullivan out, and if neither is knocked out the gate money is to be divided.

AMONG THE STRIKERS.

A Fight Between the Strikers and the Working Italians in New York.

New York, July 26.—About fifteen Italians and Germans at work in places of the strikers at St. John's Park, this morning, started a riot, and left the building because the company would not pay them 20 cents per hour advance demanded by the strikers. A fight occurred to day on Broadway, at Canal street, between a party of striking freight handlers and a party of Italians, whom they sought to prevent from going to work at St. John's park of the New York Central road. The strikers had met the Italians at their houses on the east side, and after they had been driven from their homes from going to work followed, and at Broadway and Canal streets attacked the Italians. The latter were game and the fight lasted some time. Finally a couple of shots were fired, and the strikers, who were armed with clubs, retreated. The strikers pursued and drove them several blocks. One Italian was terribly wounded in the face by a blow with a stave or the cotton wool. After the battle, a squad of police escorted the Italians to work. The laboring force at St. John's park was much reduced to-day by absentees. The Light street doors of the depot were not opened, and the line of trucks extended six or seven blocks from the depot in several streets.

THE VIRGINIA STRAIGHTSHOTS.

Special Dispatch to the Constitution.

LONDON, July 27.—A telegram received in London states that the most Rev. Patrick Feehan, archbishop of Chicago, will be named cardinal at the next consistory.

OUR RAILROADS.

GEORGIA MIDLAND AND OTHER LINES.

What Cole, Seney, Thomas and Brown Propose to Do With the Griffin, Madison and Monticello Railroad Company—A Talk With Julius L. Brown—Other Southern Railroads.

At a meeting of the directors of the Georgia Midland railroad company, held in New York a few days ago, there were present Julius L. Brown, president; E. W. Cole, George I. Seney, Samuel Thomas, C. M. McGhee, and Calvin S. Brice, directors. All of the directors being present except Major W. V. McCracken, the secretary and treasurer, the affairs of the company were thoroughly discussed and the following resolution was finally adopted:

Resolved, That the books of subscription of this company be opened for subscriptions for $100,000 of additional stock, and that such books be opened under the superintendence of such persons as the president and secretary and treasurer of this company may select in each of the following counties, and also under the superintendence of such persons as they may select along the line of the road from Griffin to Monticello.

Resolved 2d, That so soon as $100,000 of good and solvent subscriptions are made that this company will proceed to build its line to Griffin and to Monticello.

It is the purpose of President Brown and Treasurer McCracken to select reliable citizens to receive subscriptions for the $100,000 additional stock. As soon as that stock is subscribed for by solvent parties the construction of the road will be begun according to the resolutions above. Unless the subscription are made the road will not be built. It will cost a very large sum of money to construct and equip the road, and the amount the citizens along the line are asked to subscribe is but a small proportion of what will be necessary. They are asked for that amount more as an evidence of their interest in the road and their belief that it will pay than because their money is needed. The gentlemen on the board of directors have determined that they will not put their money into it further unless the people take the stock above referred to. The importance of this road to the people of Georgia is incalculable. It gives them the competition they have so long desired. It does the same for Jackson, and Monticello must have the road to preserve her existence. This road will also prove a great benefit to ATLANTA, for it opens up new territory for her trade. As soon as the road is built from Griffin to Monticello, books of subscription will be open for additional stock, and the road will then be pushed on to Madison greatly to the benefit of the people of Georgia.

Work on the Knoxville road is proceeding in an entirely satisfactory manner, and by January 1, we will have through cars to Knoxville. Railroad building beyond Knoxville is active, and by the time the Louisville and Knoxville line is completed the whole of the South Atlantic coast will be open to us. The mineral resources of this region are appreciated only by a few men of science, by a few speculators, and by some of the managers. Lands have been sold at merely nominal figures, but are now advancing. It is a country which must in time have a vast amount of traffic for the railroads which penetrate it.

THE LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE EXTENSION—The Richmond and Danville and Other Lines.

From the Knoxville road is proceeding in an entirely satisfactory manner, and by January 1, we will have through cars to Knoxville. Railroad building beyond Knoxville is active, and by the time the Louisville and Knoxville line is completed the whole of the South Atlantic coast will be open to us. The mineral resources of this region are appreciated only by a few men of science, by a few speculators, and by some of the managers. Lands have been sold at merely nominal figures, but are now advancing. It is a country which must in time have a vast amount of traffic for the railroads which penetrate it.

THE PENSACOLA AND ATLANTIC ROAD, also building, by the assistance of the Louisville and Nashville will be an important feeder to this system. It brings the Florida peninsula in direct communication with the railroad system of Louisiana, and opens new markets for all the products of Florida. It is a mistake to suppose that Florida produces nothing but oranges and "garden truck." Important as these things are, the lumber interest greatly exceeds them, and it is a very valuable traffic for a railroad. The Pensacola and Atlantic will be completed by January 1.

THE LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE MANAGERS are also fostering the development of the country around Birmingham, and the business in that section is reaching large proportions. Large sums of money have, during the past few years, been invested in the coal and iron fields of Alabama, and now they are proving productive. The Louisville and Nashville is building a number of important branches in that region, some of them fifteen miles long. This is much wiser than paying the money out in dividends. The work done in Alabama will soon be completed, and the Knoxville branch. This road, in common with other southern roads, has but entered on an era of prosperity which will surprise its best friends and result in great benefits to Louisville.

THE RICHMOND AND DANVILLE. From the Richmond state.

It is understood that Mr. Mercer Slaughter has been appointed general passenger agent of the Richmond and Danville line, under Mr. Sol Haas, traffic manager of the "Associated Lines of Virginia and the Carolinas." He is now the assistant general passenger agent of the Virginia and the Carolinas line, and will remove to Richmond. His office will be in the Richmond and Danville building. Mr. F. T. Hanks will be the freight and ticket agent of the Virginia Midland railway, with headquarters at Alexandria. It is understood that Mr. J. H. Drake, of the Richmond and Danville railroad, will be the acting general freight agent of the Richmond and Danville system under the supervision of Mr. T. M. THE TROY AND ELBA.

From the Montgomery Advertiser.

The meeting of the directors of the Mobile and Girard railroads, which was held on Thursday last, decided to accept the proposition of the Troy and Elba railroad, and will extend their road to Elba. There were two reports from the committee appointed to investigate the matter. A majority report from Dr. Banks, of Guerryville, and Captain Lee of Troy, in favor of the extension, and a minority report from Mr. Joel Murphree, of Troy, against it. The majority report was adopted with only a dissenting vote, that of Mr. Murphree. It was resolved that for building the extension, the Mobile and Girard railroad company should issue and negotiate bonds to an amount not exceeding $250,000, the bonds to bear interest at 6 per cent. A meeting of stockholders will be called to take final action upon the decision of the board of directors.

LIVERPOOL AND SAVANNAH.

From the British owners of a number of steamships propose establishing a semi-monthly line between Liverpool and Savannah, Ga., connecting with the Georgia Central railroad. It is proposed to bring on each trip not less than 300 immigrants, who are to be conveyed to Texas and other southwestern states, at a fare not to exceed one cent a mile. The advantages of climate and soil and resources of the great state of Texas have been intelligently and practically described in pamphlets, which have been disseminated throughout Europe, attracting general attention from those seeking homes in this country.

"SISTER MARY AGNES."

Details of the Taking of the Veil by Baltimore's Most Celebrated Beauty.

Special Dispatch to the Globe-Herald.

Baltimore, Md., July 21.—Miss Emily McTavish, the wealthy society young lady who in May last suddenly renounced the world and entered the convent of Mt. De Sales as a novice, was today invested with the nun's habit at that institution, adopting instead of her own name that of Sister Mary Agnes. The ceremonies took place in the chapel, there being absolutely no one present except several members of the community and three invited friends. These occupied seats at the altar. The peculiarity of the ceremony was that neither the aspirant nor the nuns were in the chapel, but were in a small adjoining wing built off to the left of the altar and separated from it by a dark heavy iron grating. In this way they were not visible from the chapel proper, and had there been a congregation present, only those who were close to the grating could have seen the ceremony. The grating is typical of the renunciation of the world by the order. The nuns can never mingle with the worldly people on the outside, but, by permission of the Sister Superior, visitors may be received by them inside the convent. The sisters, therefore, do not worship in the chapel, but always behind the grating. Through a small door in this grating the priests communicated with the aspirant, who was dressed in a full and handsome white gown. She wore a heavy white satin, cut on train and caught up with buds and orange blossoms; a tulle veil enveloped her shapely figure in a fleecy cloud. This typified her wedding with the church. Attending her were the nuns of the convent, each with a lighted candle, which was carried during a portion of the services. Father Fitzpatrick, of Loyola, officiated, assisted by Fathers Lee, Curran and Parsons. There was a choir in the choir loft, and the singing was exceptionally beautiful and impressive.

At the beginning of the ceremonies Father Fitzpatrick delivered a brief address to the religious. He interposed her as to her desire to enter the convent, asking if she was ready to embrace that which was death to her former life. To these questions her answers were firm and decided. The attending sisters then carried the young recluse away, and after removing the gay wedding attire replaced it with the nun's habit of dark cloth and white linen. Her hair was not cut, nor will it be until she takes the solemn, irrevocable vows a year hence, when the aspirant returns attired in the cloister garb. The Holy Eucharist was administered and Sister Mary Agnes now remains at Mt. De Sales as one of the sisters whose chief mission, apart from their religious duties, is the instruction of young ladies.

Miss McTavish is descended from one of the oldest families of the country, which is closely connected with noted families of England through the Catons. They are very closely related to three noble houses, and General Winfield Scott was grandfather of the children of the present generation. The step taken was to her many friends a sudden one, but it had been considered for years past. Miss McTavish has been remarkable among those of her religion as one of the most devoted, pious, wealthy, of the best family, exceedingly handsome, graceful, well-educated, well-read, appreciative of the pleasures and healthfulness of out-door sports, spirited dandy after the fashion of the country, to which she was through all these traits widely known in the highest social circles of the state. She is believed to have a private fortune of over half a million dollars.

A CELEBRATED PRIEST.

Death at New Orleans of Father Charles Roglioli—His Remarkable Career.

Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

New Orleans, La., July 23.—For seventeen years the Rev. Father Charles Roglioli, C. L., has been the priest detailed by St. Joseph's church to attend upon those who needed his ministrations in the Charity hospital in this city. His duties required his presence at any and all hours. He was a colossus physically, of wonderful health and power, and master of half a dozen languages, and was thus specially fitted for the duties to which he had been assigned. He shrank from no contagion, and never acknowledged fear or fatigue. In past years several patients suffering with leprosy received treatment at the hospital as a result of the dying of this terrible disease in 1881. These people the priest was especially attentive to, giving them much more of his care than his duties to the church required, so that even the attending physicians warned him of the danger to which he exposed himself. He paid no attention to the warning, and the result was he became infected with the dread disease, and after a long illness died last night of leprosy. The dead priest was a remarkable man in many respects. He was born in Conness, Italy, in 1814. He studied in philosophy for three years in the College of Placentia, and theology six years. While still a young man he was sent as missionary to America. He was ordained as a priest by Archbishop Blanc, in New Orleans, in 1841. Meantime he had been leader in ecclesiastical schools in western states and Louisiana. When the late Dr. Dromgoole, a prominent physician, died, he was called to the bedside of the dying man, and he was the guest of Father Roglioli at Donaldsonville, and he declared him, in his review to be the greatest and soundest philosopher he had met in America. At the breaking out of the cholera epidemic he accompanied the Donaldsonville Cannibals to Virginia, and was the chaplain of that command during the war. He was well known throughout this portion of the country as a man of great learning, pious, noble, and courteous, and modest and a good friend of the poor. The funeral took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock, after solemn high mass, from St. Joseph's church, in this city.

A Basket of Summer Fruit

May be a great luxury if ripe and in season. But in summer, when a deal of sickness comes from eating unripe and withered fruit, colic, cramps, and summer complaint are the result of indulgence in fruit which is not wholesome. These are bad; yet it is well to know that Perry Davis' Pain Killer is a sovereign remedy for these and many other evils. Mr. Lane, of the famous Abbot Downing Carriage Company in Concord, N. H., has frequently used "Pain Killer" for such diseases as colic and is delighted with the cure it speedily relieves it affords. There were 300 hands employed in the Abbot Downing factory, and the Pain Killer is extensively used in their families.

"Their Warfare is Accomplished"

Was the touching inscription placed upon the tombstone of a husband and wife. There is nothing which so sours a man, and induces domestic warfare, as ill health; and especially weakness in the back, loss of physical power, and early breaking down of the body, rendering one unfit to attend to his business. Then comes anxiety, multiply, and temper becomes ruffled, and peace flies out of the window. Behold the great restorer, Hunt's Kidney and Bladder Remedy! Quietly it comes to the man's relief. One bottle searches out the disease, and begins its cure. Two or three more take on the good work, and find it satisfactorily. The kidneys are healed and restore their proper functions. The weakness is gone, the back is relieved, the bloom of health returns, and all the old-time vigor in one's business affairs, and there is no more sour temper, but lasting peace. All hail to Hunt's Kidney Remedy!

I have had what my physician termed eczema for over eight years, and came five years ago to this place to live in order that I might be cured. During that time I energetically applied all the healing art of the physicians here, both inside and outside the hospital, but without success. The celebrated Thermal Bath, and in addition have taken more than a hundred bottles of various medicines without the desired result. Up to three months ago I had almost believed my case incurable, but began taking Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) with all the skepticism possible, although the eruption was at first worse, yet there were some signs of improvement, and after three months use of S. S. S. I am sound and well, not a sign of the eruption remaining. I am now a healthy man, and my general health as good as it ever was, and there are any doubting ones, let them write to me here.

fighting the common battle against capital in Pittsburgh. Whether this is so or not, it is plain that the Pittsburgh mills will not agree to remain idle much longer; for their mills that are at work will soon begin to steal the trade of the smoky city. A compromise is the more probable result at Pittsburgh, and that too at an early day.

If the strikers of Pittsburgh are compelled to surrender they will be bitterly disappointed in their venture. The strike was started with liberation, backed not only by the Amalgamated association—an immense organization—but having the moral support at least of the Knights of Labor and the federation of organized trade and labor unions, both well

A MUSICAL EVENT YESTERDAY.
From the New York Herald.
In Baireuth, Bavaria, Richard Wagner's latest operatic creation; "Parsifal," will receive its first performance yesterday. The quaint, sleepy little place, which for years has lain dormant, was roused king and his royal friends to attend the "Nobelungen" festival, and now, on the occasion of the first his musician for this latest event in his musical career. Of the merits of the new work nothing can be determined as yet, for, although the vocal score has been made public, the orchestral scoring, on which the value of the opera depends, will be carefully guarded from inspection until after the performance of to-day. Everything seems to have been done that money and friendship can accomplish to the Royal opera house at Munich, having been drawn on heavily to provide money and re-meet the expectations of Wagner's confident admirers it will be useless to put forth any plea of insufficiency of funds or preparation as an excuse. Money has been plentiful and rehearsals have been frequent. The result now rests with Wagner. All others concerned seem to have done their part thoroughly well.

"Give me the child."

Little Beatrice had been uneasy all the day, and now that the summer day was drawing to a close, and the long lines of rosy light that streamed up from below the western horizon seemed to rest like a benediction upon the heated earth. She was crying in the querulous, impatient way that brings alarm to a mother's heart.

Vivian handed the child to Beryl. "What are you gleamed a passionate love-light, Beryl said in tones of thrilling tenderness:

Heroes the best that stand the test
In many an unmarked strife;
Heroes of home, of shop, of farm,
And at duty's call alone,
Though unaware of honor's share,
And by noisy fame unblown.

From a flame-girt lofty window
Wild faces and hands outstret

When a boot-black climbs an adjacent pole,
And swift from its peak impels

Oh, yes; they are all around us,
And to instance their deeds were vain,
So hidden away in the crowds are they,
In the paths obscure and plain;
From those whose chivalry, unesteemed,

For the rest like starry signs,

CITY NEWS.

THE REGULAR RECORD OF OUR RENT LOCAL EVENTS.

The Day's Doing in Public Places—The Record of the Courts, the Railroads and Hotels—Capital Jottings—Real Estate Operations—Improvements—Gossip of all Kinds.

The city court will meet Monday. The street car lines did a good business. The market is flooded with watermelons. The furniture dealers had a big trade yesterday.

The sun came out in full force yesterday morning. The "Oscar Wilde Art Club" is soon to be organized. Water motor elevators are coming into use in Atlanta.

The city council will meet in regular session Monday night. The cool weather is playing havoc with the ice cream vendors.

Porter and ales—Pure imported to be had at Bird & Compton's. Officer Reid is adding to his list of license evaders every hour.

Claret wine—finest imported at Bird & Compton's, 38 Marietta street. There are more than a dozen citizens of Augusta spending the week in Atlanta.

The building of a sidewalk on the east side of Tenth street will be begun next week. Hundreds of the best families in Atlanta use "Bird's Victor," and will have no other flour.

A force of workmen are engaged in laying the curbstone for the new sidewalk on Ivy street. The firemen exercise their horses every morning and evening by promenades on Broad street bridge.

Yesterday painters were at work on the old Willingham building, changing the name to the Yancey building. Broad street, near Marietta, was absolutely crowded with country wagons yesterday and carriages were unable to pass.

Bird & Compton have choice sugar cured smoked beef for broiling; fine for tea or breakfast. A photograph of life of Arabi Bey, the leader of the Egyptian revolution, is on exhibition in Holman & Coffin's window.

Dr. Martin's account against the city for services during the small pox season remains unsettled. He refuses to take less than $500, and the board of health refuses to pay that sum. Each side presents a stubborn front.

The Richardson street property to be sold to-day immediately after the Washington street sale, is a small, but a good investment, as the ground is pretty and well located, and the house rents well. See description in ten cent column, and attend both sales. Frierson & Leak.

Desirable residence lots on Washington street are very scarce and hard to secure, and very soon all will be taken. Two of the finest left will be sold to-day at 6 o'clock. Read full description in ten cent column. Attend the sale and secure a nice Washington street home before it is too late. Frierson & Leak.

BUILDING NOTES.

The rental agents report an increased demand for small cottages. Mr. P. H. Snook contemplates building a summer residence at Kirkwood.

C. P. Frazier will soon begin building three cottages on Church street, near Spring. Dr. Goldsmith is now building a handsome two-story mansion on Church street, near Cone.

Mr. William Owens has just commenced erecting a four-room residence on Luckie street. Mr. Julius L. Brown's handsome brick mansion on Washington street is going up rapidly.

J. W. Glover will soon begin building a neat four-room cottage on Fair street, near Forsyth street. Washington is one of the most desirable residence streets in Atlanta and nearly all the choice lots on it are taken, but there is a chance to secure two of the best lots left at our sale this evening at 6 o'clock. Read description in ten cent column and attend the sale.

ATLANTA IS TO HAVE

A park which will be opened—When? The largest beer garden in the south where the best beer will be made.

Two new horse car lines—one out Mitchell and the other out Pryor street. A brand new wholesale grocery and commission house on Alabama street.

A new mattress factory, which will give employment to over a hundred persons. A large cigar and tobacco manufactory, and the capital invested will be fully $100,000.

The finest bank building in the south and two hundred new residences in the next thirty days. Reception at Trinity Church.

A reception will be given at the new paragon of Trinity church next Wednesday night (August 2). A Marriage Tuesday Night.

Tuesday night, at the residence, 109 Houston street, Miss Mattie Moyer and Mr. Samuel Spain were united in marriage by Rev. H. C. Hornaday.

Released from Custody.

J. P. Huckleby was before Justice Tanner yesterday, charged with carrying concealed weapons. The arresting officer decided not to prosecute the case and Huckleby was allowed to go free.

Society Matters.

Any person having any society news, personals, balls, dinings, club meetings, etc., etc., which they wish to appear in Sunday's issue of The Constitution, will please send to the same, with reasonable name, to "Society Editor," by Friday, 12 o'clock p. m.

Sent to Jail.

Bud Smith, the man who was charged with robbing several newsboys Sunday morning, was sent to jail on a double charge by Justice Pitcheford in default of two bonds of $300 each. Jack Dougherty was also sent to jail on a charge of larceny from the house.

Held for Cheating.

Yesterday Justice Tanner held a DeKalb county young man for cheating and swindling. J. R. Lord was engaged by an Atlanta wood dealer to furnish him six cords of wood. Lord, it is charged, changed the figures in the order to eighteen instead of six, and hence the trouble.

A Sunday-School Mass Meeting.

The Baptist Sunday-school of Atlanta, will hold a Sunday-school mass meeting at the Fifth Baptist church Sunday, at four o'clock, p. m. An interesting programme of speeches and music has been arranged. Among the interesting features will be a song by eight or ten little girls of the Third Baptist Sunday-school.

A Sad Death.

Yesterday morning the remains of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Abbott reached the city by the Central accommodation train from Barnesville, where its death occurred suddenly the day before. In the afternoon the body was interred in Oakland. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Abbott greatly regret this great bereavement which has come upon them.

Skipped Out.

There are at No. 494 Whitehall street a lady and two children who are in exceedingly needy circumstances. She and her children are quite ill, and until a few days ago they were provided for by her husband, but day before yesterday, he failed to return to his home, and a close search reveals the fact that he has skipped the town, leaving his family to support themselves in their great illness.

and two children who are in exceedingly needy circumstances. She and her children are quite ill, and until a few days ago they were provided for by her husband, but day before yesterday, he failed to return to his home, and a close search reveals the fact that he has skipped the town, leaving his family to support themselves in their great illness.

Crop Destroying Insects.

The caterpillar is reported as having appeared in several sections of the state, and Commissioner Henderson is about to inaugurate a war of extermination. Mr. Ingram, of Senoia, reports a new fangled corn-destroying worm that is attacking the fodder, and Dr. Hardin has gone down with some poisonous solutions and some sprinkling machinery and the newcomer is to be given a lively reception.

A Habeas Corpus Case.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Ordinary Calhoun will try an interesting habeas corpus case. Jerry Hinton was sent to the chain gang for a term. If the sentence was construed to date from the time of the sentencing he would now be entitled to his liberty. His friends are working for his release. The case is being argued by Mr. H. Garmany, who thinks the term dated from the time of the delivery of the prisoner. So the wife, Mollie Kinton, has sued out the writ and the issue is to be tried to-day.

A Horde of Bats.

There is an old house down on one of the Fourth ward streets that is the home of hundreds of leather-winged bats. The bats get in between the ceiling of the house and the roof and rear their young there. At all hours of the day and night they keep up a continual squeaking, and so long have they been there that the odor peculiar to their lodging place can be easily noticed a half block away, while directly at the house it is offensive in no small degree.

Nearly a Fatal Injury.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Frank Tutweiler, bookkeeper of LaFontaine & Tutweiler, met with quite a bad accident at his employees' mill, near the Central depot. Mr. Tutweiler was superintending the packing of lumber when he was struck by a pile for catching him under it. On account of his quickness Mr. Tutweiler escaped an almost instant death, as the pile of lumber was enough to have crushed him. As it was, only his legs were caught under the pile and they were slightly bruised.

Have Your Baggage Checked.

Colonel J. S. Armstrong, superintendent of the Union depot, has been bothered so much recently with the checking of baggage just before the departure of trains that he has issued a notice which will be well for Atlantians to read, as it is intended for their exclusive. The notice reads: "On and after August 1, 1882, parties wishing baggage checked must have it delivered at the baggage room not later than twenty minutes of leaving time of the train it is going on, or it will not be checked. This order is positive, and will be strictly enforced."

A Photograph of the Dead.

Yesterday morning Captain Couch came upon a small sized mope who had in his possession a bird cage. Being unable to give a satisfactory explanation of the manner in which he obtained the cage, the mope was taken to the station house, where he was held until the charge of suspicion is cleared away. When Sampson was searched just before being locked up a daguerotype of a small white dead child was found upon him. The child was apparently five or six years old and was resting upon a bed when the picture was taken. It was lying on its side and was dressed in a short gown.

Fighting With Clubs.

Yesterday afternoon two white citizens of the fourth ward disagreed concerning the merits of a candidate for mayor of Atlanta and went for one another in fine style. The fight took place on Peters, near Beermann, and was witnessed by quite a number of persons, who permitted the row to continue until one of the combatants was badly hurt. The aggressors were Tom Garrett and Bill Bracket, and after they had used their knuckles until they were sore, they picked up a stick of wood each from a pile near by and continued the fight, which resulted in several bad bruises on Garrett's head; Bracket escaped without any injury.

Mrs. Dickey Returns Her Thanks.

Mrs. Dickey, whose husband died yesterday at his home on Haynes street, and whose destitute condition was noticed by The Constitution a few days ago, returns her thanks to those who extended aid in their affliction in the following language: "While I appreciate an intended kindness, permit me to say and acknowledge to the kindness, through The Constitution, that my church—Central Baptist—together with the other friends of Mr. Dickey's trade, printing, has given every attention necessary to meet our necessities, and make us as comfortable as possible during the protracted and fatal illness of my husband."

Stealing Rings.

Yesterday afternoon a trampish looking individual applied to a boarding house room, saying that he wanted to sleep an hour or two. The money was paid in advance, and the guest was shown to a room, where he locked himself securely in. Late in the evening a member of the family had occasion to visit the room, which, in the meantime, had been vacated by the guest and was about to leave when a bundle on a trunk attracted his attention. This upon examination was found to be a pair of pants which the tramp had left behind him. It is present cause an investigation whereby it was ascertained that the trunk had been rifled and that three valuable gold rings had been stolen. One of the rings was a beautiful amethyst setting and the other two were plain gold.

THE LATE UNPLEASANTNESS.

Ex-State Treasurer Renfro had State Route Brady's Colonel's Commission and Returns It. From the Washington Globe.

Saturday's mail General T. J. Brady, of this city, received a letter, which he prints below. It forms one among many pleasant episodes of the late war between the sections. The circumstance that led to the capture at Bull's Gap of the train of the brigade to which General Brady's regiment belonged, and with it the general's field baggage and papers, are too well known to need recital. The Confederate officer who captured the papers retained General Brady's commission as a personal souvenir of the event, and after keeping it nineteen years returns it with his compliments, under the circumstances detailed as follows:

"Cincinnati and Georgia Railroad, Atlanta, Ga., July 19, 1882.—General Thomas J. Brady, Washington, D. C.—My Friend: It is my pleasure to transmit herewith from Captain J. W. Renfro, who commanded the 21st Mississippi in the battle of Bull's Gap in East Tennessee, your commission as colonel of the 11th Indiana Infantry. On yesterday Mr. Renfro and myself were mentioned about the persecution of officials, and he mentioned the fact that many unjust criticisms had been made upon himself a few years since, when he was state treasurer of Georgia, and I followed by stating your case. He then asked your initials, and when I told him he said: 'I have his commission as colonel, which was captured with his baggage, as our corps (Longstreet's) advanced after the defeat of the regiment which was holding the Gap. If you know him, it would afford me pleasure to return it to him through you.' I gladly accepted the trust, and request that you acknowledge its receipt to him direct, at 264 Peachtree street, Atlanta. Colonel Renfro is a gentleman, a good fellow in every sense, and is worthy to be considered the friend of any man. Your friend, J. H. WOODARD.

COMING ELECTIONS.

A GLANCE AT THE ELECTIONS OF THE NEXT FEW MONTHS.

The gubernatorial convention, the Republican Convention, the Liberal's Convention, and the Democratic Convention, are all to be held in the next few months.

If, when the idea of January have arrived, the people of Atlanta have not had elections to their full satisfaction, then it will be safe to say that they have an insatiable appetite for displays of their franchise as freemen. In the elections that are to be, there are parties almost without number—and almost without voters, too, for that matter. To start with, there is the old reliable stand-by, the organized democrats. There are the republicans. It may not be amiss to mention the late lamented coalition. The independents are also to be counted. Colonel Thornton is calling lustily for volunteers to join his liberal party and lately your Uncle Daniel Pittman has aroused his greenback party which has been keeping remarkably quiet for four years. In all this long list of parties there is certainly something that must meet the ideas of every twenty-one year old male American who may not be otherwise dissatisfied, and who shall have paid all taxes that may be required of him for the year next preceding the year of the election. The patriots have been waked up, and the old soldiers who during the campaign are allowed to call the candidates familiarly by their first names, are on deck and kicking. They are ready to march directly up to the cannon's mouth, if need be, to save the state. There is plenty of room for those who wish to show their patriotism, to begin with Mr. Stephens is nominated and it may not be amiss to remark that he is offering his efforts in Washington for sale. He has a few articles of furniture there that he used while a congressman from the eighth district which he says he thinks he will not need after the 15th of August. General Gartrell informed a Constitution reporter a day or two since that the people were going to elect him governor of Georgia in October. The general is sanguine. The republicans meet on the 4th of August. Pledge has already been a hat on General Gartrell, and it may be that this is one of the straws which it is supposed indicates the direction in which the republicans breeze is blowing. Whatever the convention may do, one thing is certain—there is fun ahead. It is probable that Belcher and Doctor West and Jackson McHenry and George McKinney will be in the city when they sound the new gag. There will be a delegation from Fulton county that will wake things up. On the 15th of August, Colonel M. E. Thornton will meet the liberals in convention. This is a new party, about which very little is known so far. From all that can be learned, it seems to be a movement to get up a sort of eclectic organization with a new name. Colonel Thornton says that it is not considered respectable to be a republican, and the colored voters can't get over. He seems to forget entirely the independents.

It is not known what Judge Pittman's arousal of the greenback party means. Whenever a newspaper reporter asks the judge if he is a candidate for congress, he laughs and says: "Who told you that? Hey?" Colonel Hamaud, who is a candidate for congress, is strong, and will make a hard fight, if he enters the race. It is not known who the independents will run. The republicans have become aroused, and it is altogether likely that there will be a republican candidate. Colonel Buck has been mentioned as the probable candidate of the republicans. But he is so snugly fixed up at home that he would not like to go to Washington and doubtless would not consent except to "save my party." He has a delightful home on Peachtree, with a winding path that leads by Judge Woods and around to Colonel Morrill's, and in the evening he can either sit under the roof of his own pretty home or roam wide, free from any of the annoyances which attend his place. He can run down to Colonel Morrill's and sit on the front veranda with the colonel and talk, while his face is fanned by the pure breeze that ever came down the mountains of north Georgia. Truly it would be a sacrifice to send him away to Washington. However, "if the contingency arises," the party must be saved.

In the senatorial race things are quiet. Colonel Stone, of Forsyth, is a candidate, and wants to get in. Clayton county says "set down on" until forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. But Fulton comes along, and Fulton, it will be remembered, has been very lively delegates too, and Judge Hoyt, it is said, is steering for the senatorship and the judge seldom steers in vain. Colonel Hoge declines to run. It is said that he has a great deal of business mentioned as a candidate, will be a candidate for the legislature instead. If Cobb sides with Clayton, and Fulton goes for Judge Hoyt, there will be six on each side, and that will mean a mighty election.

To begin with, your Uncle Jim O. Harris is a candidate. He will take the tax receiver's office, and he will see for you. In the race for the legislature the candidates are too numerous to mention. The Strong ticket for clerk superior court will, it is said, remain unchanged. Dr. Holliday, it is understood, will battle with this trio. Colonel Calhoun, the candidate for clerk superior court, is very strong. The sheriff ticket, headed by Captain Perkins, will make a strong fight. It is not known what the opposition will be. It has been said that Colonel Acton, Mr. Bat Lynch and Colonel A. L. Harris will form a combination and enter the race for the clerk superior court. It will be a sad day for the opposition that gets "set down on" by this team.

Alderman Beermann goes out of office at the next election and five councilmen will also retire—Dr. Pinson, of the 1st ward; Mr. Tapp, of the 2d; Bear, of the 3d; Johnson, of the 4th; and Payne, of the 5th. There are no positive announcements yet by parties who will run, although quite a number of names have been mentioned. Dr. Roach and J. B. Goodwin have been mentioned for mayor. Mayor English will not be a candidate for re-election. He has been mentioned as a probable candidate for the legislature. Concerning that matter he has said to Constitution reporter yesterday:

"I am thankful for the honors conferred on me, but I am not a candidate for any place. No man who is not a politician can afford to serve the city or the people more than two years without injury to his own private interests. I must take charge now of my own affairs and look after my own interests that need my attention."

At the SENATORIAL DELEGATES. To represent Fulton county in the nominating convention of the 35th senatorial district the following ticket was selected without opposition, only a small vote being polled: John N. Dunn, John T. Cooper, Andrew P. Stewart, and Edward S. McCandless, William H. Venable.

CANDIDATE TALK. Councilman Payne is gaining strength in the aldermanic race. Mr. M. M. Brannon has announced for the fourth ward council chair. Mr. Julius L. Brown's friends still persist in their efforts to make him a candidate for mayor.

Ex-Councilman T. J. Buchanan will be a candidate for alderman, to fill Alderman Beermann's place, which expires in December. Mr. P. H. Snook is considering the advisability of making the race in the Fourth ward, but he is not yet decided. Captain Harry Jackson's name is still

THE NEW STREET CAR LINE.

What Captain Stephens Has to Say About the New Route to Peachtree.

On last Sunday the first through car was run on the Gate City street railroad to Peachtree.

The work on the road was commenced just a year ago, and what they are now doing will be seen by the following conversation with Captain John Stephens, one of the principal movers in the company.

"Captain, what about the new road?" "It's booming; two years ago the charter was granted us with Mr. W. R. Weed as president, and Messrs. DeGue, Rheinhardt, Nelson and myself as directors. We commenced work just a year ago, and on last Sunday the first through car was run."

"What is the length of the road?" "Two and five-eighths miles, and if I do say it myself, there is not a better constructed road in the south. It is now completed and equipped, and is paying handsomely. The road is somewhat different from other street car lines, being made with T rails, with side guards of oak all along the line. It is well macadamized in the city limits, and the construction of the road prevents all that complaint of breaking vehicles by the washing and wearing away of the dirt along the rails."

"Has it enhanced the value of property in the portion of the city through which it runs?" "Yes, greatly. Two years ago I knew twenty men in the city who bought two lots on the line at four hundred dollars. When the line was talked off they sold for sixteen hundred dollars, and that party soon afterwards sold for nineteen hundred. The present owner bought a short while ago at two thousand, and is now building on the property. All along the line real estate is being sold largely, and I feel justified in saying that I think that portion of the city near the Boulevard will, at no distant time, be made one of its most attractive parts. But that you may judge for yourself, let me pass and see for yourself."

Armed with a summer pass a Constitution reporter boarded the car at the Kimball and made the trip to the springs. Leaving Pryor street the line turned into Wheat, and thence, crossing the Boulevard, passes Anger's spring, and under a succession of ridges, trestles, and through deep cuts reaches the springs.

FOSTER COOK'S DIFFICULTY.

A Letter from Major David A. Cook, Father of the Young Man.

Colonel L. P. Thomas, deputy sheriff, has received the following letter from Major D. A. Cook, which will be of interest, as it contains a statement of the killing of a man named Healey by young Cook in Texas a few weeks ago.

GEORGETOWN, Texas, July 23, 1882.—Colonel L. P. Thomas—Dear Sir: I arrived here after a tiresome journey but before last. My son is in rather bad health, but in good spirits and stands his condition like a man. The killing happened in about this way: He had got a leave of absence from the army, and he and I, and another conductor were to exchange trains for that night in order to let my son get to Palestine that night and have his own train. He, after this was agreed to by Mr. Healey, the train dispatcher, went to bed to get his usual sleep, and when the time came for him to register and take out the train agreed upon, Healey refused to let him do so and would not give his reason for the change. My son told him this was not the first time he had received such treatment at his hands, and without any further ceremony threw a very large insulator at my son, which was dodged and replied to by striking Healey over the head with his lantern. Healey then throwing his hand behind him and shouting towards my son, saying at the time, "Cook, damn you, I will kill you!" It then was a question between the two who should get the drop, and at that moment Healey fell with a bullet shot through the heart. After the killing one of Healey's telegraph operators at Palestine, filled the newspapers over the state with incorrect statements as to the killing, and with the people that did not know better, caused great excitement and much feeling against my son, Foster. My other son, Hamilton, who runs on a separate road from his brother, and was one hundred and sixty miles from his brother at the time of the killing, was tried to be delayed by Superintendent Herring from reaching his brother before his gang did, but Hamilton frustrated their game and was on hand as soon as they were with a few determined friends, who were ready for any emergency. My sons have a host of friends, while there is an element in Texas, if they were not afraid, would gladly hang my son Foster without judge or jury. Yours, etc., D. A. Cook.

TRAGEDY BY A WATER LILY.

Some two months ago the wife of an Atlanta gentleman suddenly disappeared from her home, which was located on a quiet street in the fourth ward. Her disappearance was quite a surprise to her husband and her friends who were unable to assign any cause for her desertion of her home, and finally the cloud which surrounded her leaving began to be cleared away when it was ascertained that she was decidedly more devoted to another man than to her husband.

Notwithstanding the fact that he was not the only inhabitant of her heart, the mind of the husband went to work with a will to ascertain the whereabouts of his faithless frau. Telegrams were sent in all directions, and detectives in different cities were advised of her disappearance, but all to no purpose. It so happened that the wife had, during her sojourn with her husband, been cultivating a water lily, and when she left she carried this pet with her. A few days ago a city official who had at one time been employed in the case, in passing a house in this city, saw a water lily in the window. It attracted his attention and called to mind the disappearance of the woman. He decided to ascertain to whom the lily belonged, and when he entered the house was not greatly surprised to ascertain that its owner was the missing wife.

It is now known that the woman has never been absent from Atlanta, but has been living in an in-door life ever since her disappearance. It is further ascertained that she is just recovering from a severe illness of five weeks' duration.

"What about Mr. Goodwin, the bank cashier from Atlanta?" asked a Constitution reporter of your Tom Swift, of the Swift Medicine company. "We know nothing of him except that he came into our office on the 15th and inquired about S. S. and said he had heard a great deal of it. I don't take your medicine. I do not know; think it probable that he did. By the way, I don't think Goodwin is a bad man. I have no doubt he would be led off and got into difficulties and did not have the courage to face the situation."

"Well, how is S. S. getting on?" "Spendidly. We have about as much as we can keep up with the orders. Here is a list of our sales on yesterday: Laredo, Mexico, $125; St. Louis, Mo., $50; Chicago, $400; Columbus, O., $125; Milwaukee, Wis., $300; Baltimore, Md., $125; Indianapolis, Ind., $125; Memphis, $250; and Peoria, Ill., $125. We are shipping it now all over the United States east of the Rocky mountains and will soon make a shipment to the Pacific Slope. St. Louis is our best point. The dealers there take often $2,000 worth in a month. Cincinnati is good also, and Chicago comes up well."

"Have you done anything in New England?" "Oh, yes; we now have the whole of these states covered with advertisements and have a fair trade." "You must have a great number of newspapers." "Yes, about 400 in all. Our mail usually fills a mail bag, and I can tell you some of them are extensive. Cincinnati Enquirer, $1.20; Chicago Tribune, $2.00; St. Louis Globe Democrat, $1.50, and so on. "Your sales are large, very large indeed, S. S. S. is the most remarkable medicine which has ever been put on the market. It has paid its own way from the start, and we have never invested a dollar in it. Newspapers that did not pay a profit, and that very soon." "Then it is a good thing?" "Yes, sir; it is just what we say it is."

Germany is the only country that uses more postal cards than the United States, the daily consumption there being two tons in weight.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15th, 1880. GENTLEMEN—Having been a sufferer for a long time from nervous prostration and general debility, I was advised to try Hop Bitters. I have taken one bottle, and I have been rapidly getting better ever since. I am now gaining strength and appetite, which was all gone, and I was in despair until I tried your Bitters. I am now well, able to go about and do my own work. Before taking it I was completely prostrated.

THE SECOND COMPRESS.

Turner's New Monster Cotton-Presser to Start this

It is not quite three months since ground was broken for the new cotton presser on Bell street and yet the work has been pushed so diligently that Dr. Turner's new monster cotton-presser is now ready for the iron jaws of the institution will this morning reduce the staple to less than one-third its bulk.
This is the second press which the exigencies of cotton shippers at this point have brought into requirement, the first being at the junction of Peters street and the Central railroad. The work will probably begin at 10 o'clock, and will be witnessed by a large crowd of citizens.

Hotel Affairs.
Early yesterday morning a sneak thief was detected pilfering a room in one of Atlanta's leading hotels and subsequently it was ascertained that two rooms in the same house had been robbed during the night. From one room the thief got a diamond pin and a pocket book containing a handsome sum of money. Later in the day it was ascertained that two other hotels in the city had been worked in the same manner during the night. From one person the thief got $40 and from another $20. The police have succeeded in spotting the thief and are close upon his track.

A Fire That was Quickly Subdued.
About half past twelve o'clock last night the alarm of fire was sounded from engine house No. 1, and was caused by the burning of the servants' residence in the rear of Mr. Kott's residence, 70 Marietta street. The building is a two-story frame structure, and the fire had its origin in the kitchen, but the cause is not known. The fire department responded promptly to the call and by quickly extinguishing the flames with the assistance of the steamers.

All Serene.
Messrs. John Weaver and John Mason, of the late firm of Mason & Weaver, saloonists, on Marietta street, who failed to agree to the terms of a dissolution and had to have a receiver appointed, have settled their differences. Mrs. Weaver, who had separated from her husband and was seeking in the court to recover possession of her child, has returned to her husband. All parties have made friends, the differences are settled and everything is serene.

Scot's Way for Interment.
The remains of Mrs. Minn, mother-in-law of Mr.
Newton D. Hightower, of 40 Ivy street, were sent to Fort Valley for interment yesterday. The remains of James Means, James Means, who died at 25 street, were sent to Thomaston, and those of Mrs.
Johnson, who died at 27 Chapel street, were sent to Athens.

Sam'l Hall Institute.
The permanent, popular and prosperous institution located in the heart of the city, and which has little city of Griffin has become so well known and firmly established in popular favor as to require no newspaper endorsement. The exercises of this institution will begin August 14th under charge of George C. Loomis, A. M., principal, late of Jones boro, with a corps of assistants, selected from the best and most experienced talent. Professor Loomis enters upon his work fully qualified for the faithful discharge of all of its requirements.
Under his management there is no reason why the Sam'l Hall should not become as prosperous as any institution of learning in Georgia.

Catooza Springs.
Round trip tickets to Catooza Springs, including board one week, $10. Sunday tickets, including dinner, $5. For sale only at Western and Atlantic ticket office. July 27.

The first shipment of cotton on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad was received yesterday and will be sold this morning at 10 o'clock in front of Cummins & Co.'s cotton exchange.
The shipment was made by Messrs. J. Dougherty & Bro. of Indian Spring, and consigned to Le-toun, Crane & Co.

We call attention to the card of Dr. Miller & Word. Dr. Word, late of Columbus, Ga., we welcome to our city.

Stockbridge Cotton.
The first bale of cotton shipped from the Macon Extension of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad was shipped yesterday from Stockbridge by W. A. Bell, Rucker & Co., of Macon.
The bale will be sold at auction Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in front of Maddox, Rucker & Co.'s warehouse. Cotton buyers are requested to attend the sale.

At a meeting last night of the retail grocers of Atlanta it was resolved to go into a permanent organization for mutual benefit, the principal object being to secure the lowest prices for the members of each member of the Association, and also to take into consideration the retailing of goods by wholesale and commission merchants.

SIDEWALK NOTES.
It is not often that we indorse any remedy seeking popular favor through an advertisement. But we make an exception in favor of Hightower's Rheumatic Remedy. We believe it to be the best remedy for rheumatism on the market.
